Author Brooke Van Sickle is Back with Another Winning Picture Book!

Author, Brooke Van Sickle, is back with a new picture book that's sure to delight children and their families this summer. If you've ever brought home a puppy, you can relate to the family in the picture book, HUMANS IN-TRAINING.

Brooke Van Sickle received high praise for her first picture book, PIRATES STUCK AT "C", which debuted in February. "I absolutely loved 'Pirates Stuck at "C"' and my daughter loved it even more. Thank you for writing such a beautiful book. You are amazing!!" said blogger, Alifya Mufaddal of Alifya's Inspirations, about Van Sickle's debut picture book.

In the book, HUMANS IN-TRAINING, the family brings home a new puppy who believes he has it made. There's a fenced in yard, food dish in-sight, and plenty of space to spread out. However, Kobe soon realizes his humans are clueless about giving him the life of his dreams. If he's going to live the dog's life in the lap of luxury, Kobe is going to have to train his humans.

"I was hooked from the first word! The illustrations are vibrant and beautiful. It is really well written," said reader, Carla Burke, about Van Sickle's first book and we're sure we can expect the same with her new book.

HUMANS IN-TRAINING hits stores everywhere at the end of August. Perfect for any family thinking about bringing home a new puppy. And for current dog moms and dads to look back fondly and laugh at the struggles that are the puppy years.
